VTC Experience:

“The entire program was a positive experience. I have never experienced a Court like this one. Going through the program, everyone was nice and warm. I actually enjoyed going to Court.

“You can tell Judge K truly cares and he always made sure my needs were covered. I did not need much, but it was nice seeing my fellow Veterans get the help they needed. I planned on graduating from day one and I am proud I did.”

Johnston Canyon Hike

On April 23, 2016, the Kingman Veterans Treatment Court held its first hike/picnic in conjunction with the LHC Veterans Treatment Court. Nearly 60 members, supporters, and employees of the two programs came together for a two-mile hike in Johnston Canyon outside of Kingman.

After the hike, the participants gathered for a picnic at Locomotive Park in Kingman where hamburgers, hot dogs and extras were cooked up. The event concluded with everyone partaking of a large cake decorated with an American flag that read: "We're Proud of our Veterans."

Numerous groups donated time and effort for the event. The City of Kingman permitted use of the park, the Municipal Court donated the food, the Jerry Ambrose Veterans Council provided tables and chairs, Journey Church supplied its mobile kitchen/grill and handled the cooking, Boy Scout Troop 53 helped in and around the event, and Wired Security and Sound of Kingman provided the music.

"I thought overall the event was a huge success, especially being our first time doing this. I'm hoping everyone who took part enjoyed themselves and that they know how much we care about our Veterans."

This Month in U.S. Military History

Memorial Day

“The Civil War claimed more lives than any conflict in U.S. history, requiring the establishment of the country’s first national cemeteries.

By the late 1860s Americans in various towns and cities had begun holding springtime tributes to these countless fallen soldiers, decorating their graves with flowers and reciting prayers.

“It is unclear where exactly this tradition originated; numerous different communities may have independently initiated the memorial gatherings. Nevertheless, in 1966 the federal government declared Waterloo, New York, the official birthplace of Memorial Day. Waterloo—which had first celebrated the day on May 5, 1866—was chosen because it hosted an annual, community-wide event, during which businesses closed and residents decorated the graves of soldiers with flowers and flags.

“On May 5, 1862, General John A. Logan, leader of an organization for Northern Civil War veterans, called for a nationwide day of remembrance later that month. ‘The 30th of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers, or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land,’ he proclaimed. The date of Decoration Day, as he called it, was chosen because it wasn’t the anniversary of any particular battle.

“Memorial Day, as Decoration Day gradually came to be known, originally honored only those lost while fighting in the Civil War. But during World War I the United States found itself embroiled in another major conflict, and the holiday evolved to commemorate American military personnel who died in all wars.

“For decades, Memorial Day continued to be observed on May 30, the date Logan had selected for the first Decoration Day. But in 1968 Congress passed the Uniform Monday Holiday Act, which established Memorial Day as the last Monday in May in order to create a three-day weekend for federal employees; the change went into effect in 1971. The same law also declared Memorial Day a⁸ federal holiday.”
